Elizabeth Takes Oath, Rejoins Widowed Mother

Vows To Be Good Queen During Reign

London (AP)—With ancient pomp, Britain tightened the skeins of sovereignty around young Elizabeth II yesterday, then released her temporarily to flee to the arms of her mother.

Humbly, she had pledged to be a good Queen. In medieval pageantry over streets of golden sand, she was formally proclaimed "queen of this realm and of her other realms and territories, head of the Commonwealth, defender of the faith."

Then she joined her sorrowing family—with hugs and kisses—in the red brick mansion at Sandringham, the 15,578-acre country estate where King George VI died early Wednesday. Queen Mother Elizabeth, Princess Margaret and the new Queen's two children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne, were there to welcome her.

The King's body was taken shortly afterward from the mansion to the 16th century church on the royal estate.

The gorgeous ceremonies of proclamation unfolded throughout the British Isles and in many lands across the seas.

For six hours, Britain's deep mourning for the late King was lifted and flags flew at full staff.

Thousands jammed the ancient streets and squares of London to hear the proclamation read out at five places.

They joined in rousing cheers for their new monarch and sang full-throated their anthem: "God Save the Queen."

With yesterday's composure, Elizabeth stood quietly morning before the 192 members of her Privy Council in historic old St. James' palace to take the oath of accession.

"Your Royal Highness, my lords, ladies and gentlemen," she said:

"By the sudden death of my dear father I am called to assume the duties and responsibilities of sovereignty.

"At this time of deep sorrow, it is a profound consolation to me to be assured of the sympathy which you all my peoples feel towards me, to my mother, and my sister, and to the other members of my family.

"My father was our revered and beloved head, as he was of the wider family of his subjects: the grief which his loss brings is shared among us all.

"My heart is too full for me to say more to you today than that I shall always work, as my father did throughout his reign, to uphold the constitutional government and to advance the happiness and prosperity of my peoples, spread as they are all the world over.

"I know that in my resolve to follow his shining example of service and devotion, I shall be inspired by the loyalty and affection of those whose Queen I have been called to be, and by the counsel of their elected parliaments.

"I pray that God will help me to discharge worthily this heavy task that has been laid upon me so early in my life."

Silver trumpets blared fanfares for Sir George Bell, garter king-of-arms, as he stepped to a balcony of St. James at 11 a. m. In ancient uniform, he sonorously read the proclamation.

After taking the oath of sovereignty, Queen Elizabeth motored with her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, to Sandringham, 130 miles away.

The Queen's banner fluttered in the breeze over the mansion, where the King's body lay on a candle-lit bier in the ground floor bedroom, where he died in his sleep.

Later last night the body—in its coffin made from an oak tree felled at Sandringham—was taken along a garden path to the little 16th century church of St. Mary Magdalene. A sackcloth screen was erected along the path to shield the sad procession from public view.

Until Monday morning, when the body is then taken to London for the official lying-in-state, the King's own gamekeepers dressed in forest-green jackets similar to those of Robin Hood's day will keep a round-the-clock vigil over the coffin in the church. The late sovereign's personal flag will cover the coffin.

A SERIOUS-MIENED QUEEN Elizabeth II arrives at London airport after her flight home from Africa. In center is her husband, Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh. Among those on hand to meet the royal couple were Prime Minister Winston Churchill, the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

'Ike' Rally Draws 15,000

New York (AP)—An Eisenhower-for-President rally—the first big political mass meeting of the 1952 campaign—drew 15,000 persons to Madison Square Garden late last night.

The meeting, which got under way shortly after 11 p. m. offered an array of stage, screen, and television stars.

Noisy delegations from Texas—the home state of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower—as well as Oklahoma, Louisiana, Virginia, Pennsylvania, and New Hampshire paraded into the arena.

The aim of the rally was to test Eisenhower's popularity as a presidential candidate.

There were 19,100 seats in the garden last night and police said about 4,000 were empty.

As the rally got under way, Tex McCrary, master of ceremonies announced that the next of a series of Eisenhower rallies would be in Fort Worth, Tex.

Yentzer Trial Adjourned With Jury Deadlocked

Norristown (AP)—Judge Harold G. Knight adjourned the trial of Pennsylvania railroad engineer Francis B. Yentzer at 5:50 p. m. yesterday until 10 a. m. today after the jury of seven men and five women had failed to reach a verdict in nearly seven and a half hours of deliberation.

Yentzer, 62-year-old Harrisburg veteran railroad worker, went on trial in Montgomery county court last Monday, charged with involuntary manslaughter and negligence in a train wreck at Bryn Mawr last May 18. Nine persons were killed and 123 injured.

Judge Knight told the jury in his final charge the central issue of the case was whether "human failure or mechanical failure caused the wreck."

Bundestag Okays Adenauer's Defense Plan With Conditions

Bonn, Germany, (AP)—The West German Bundestag last night approved Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's plan to recruit soldiers for western defense, but added a string of conditions including an equal voice for the Germans in strategic councils of the West.

The vote was 204 to 156. Six deputies of the Bundestag, the lower house of Parliament, abstained.

This vote, taken after a stormy two-day debate, approved a government resolution pledging West German cooperation as an equal partner with other free peoples in the creation of a European community "to defend freedom and Democracy."

Adenauer was authorized to go ahead with his present negotiations on the creation of a six-nation European Army and talks with the United States, Britain and France over a peace contract for the Bonn republic.

But the Bundestag restricted the chancellor in future negotiations, with conditions contained in five supplementary motions. Beside the call for equality in strategic planning, these motions included an end to Allied occupation and release of all German war criminals except those convicted of crimes as normally defined in legal codes and other prisoners whose individual responsibility for the commission of crimes was clear.

This last motion called, in effect, for the release of all German war criminals held by the Allies except those convicted of such acts as murder or physical assaults which would have been classed as crimes in a civilian court.

The Socialist opposition fought with all its strength against the government's rearmament plans, which the Socialists said were presented when the danger of war was becoming less acute.

The Socialists voted against all motions to shape the government plans, even though some of them such as those dealing with German war criminals and German sovereignty are in line with Socialist policies. The Socialists were joined in the voting by the Communists, some extreme rightists, and a small Pacifist party.

A supplementary motion attacked the French government sharply for raising the French high commissioner in the disputed Saar to the rank of ambassador. The motion accused the French of prejudging final disposition of this coal-rich territory which the Germans want back.

FBI Arrests Ex-Banker On Fraud Charge

Pittsburgh (AP)—FBI agents arrested a former Point Marion bank president yesterday and charged him with false entry and embezzlement of $150,000 in bank funds.

Milo Keimer Ruse is the 15th person arrested by the Pittsburgh FBI in the past 18 months on charges of embezzlement. Defalcations total more than $3 million.

The FBI took the 52-year-old banker into custody at his home in nearby Uniontown. He had been under surveillance for several weeks. He was held under $20,000 bail.

Fred Hallford, agent in charge of the Pittsburgh FBI office, said the false entry was made June 18, 1951. He said Federal Reserve bank examiners turned up the shortage in a routine examination in January.

Bank examiners told the FBI Ruse listed the $150,000 as spent on government securities. Ruse never bought the bonds, the FBI said.

Hallford said Ruse used the entry as a mask for purchase of American Telephone and Telegraph Co. stock issued in his name.

As shortages began turning up in Pittsburgh district banks, the FBI said Ruse became panicky and sold the stock at a loss of $425 and repaid the full $150,000.

However, the FBI said, Ruse in the meantime, received $225,000 dividends paid on the stock. The FBI added Ruse admitted taking $2,177 from the bank for his personal use from Jan. 18, 1949 to Oct. 3, 1951. They said this money also was repaid.

Ruse joined the bank immediately upon graduation as valedictorian from Point Marion high school in 1917 and rose to president. He controlled 45.6 per cent of the bank stock when he resigned Jan. 25. He had been under surveillance by the FBI ever since his resignation.

Officials of the bank declined to discuss his arrest. Ruse is married and has no children. His wife also refused to discuss the case.

Ruse's arrest resumed the wave of bank embezzlements after a lapse of three months.

Hard Windstorm Hits Pittsburgh; Damage Heavy

Pittsburgh (AP)—Winds up to 85 miles an hour lashed the Pittsburgh district last night, leaving a widespread trail of damage.

Many utility lines were blown down, several trees toppled and numerous windows broken. The winds, accompanied by heavy rain, subsided within 30 minutes.

At least five persons were cut by flying glass from shattered plate glass windows.

Two airplanes awaiting takeoff were damaged at the Allegheny county airport. No passengers or crew members were hurt.

Hundreds of emergency calls were answered by police.

Allies Lose Nine Warplanes In Week To None For Reds; Seven Shot Down By A-A Fire

Seoul, Korea, Saturday, (AP)—Nine Allied warplanes were lost over North Korea in the week ending Friday, U. S. Fifth Air Force said today.

One U. S. Sabre jet was lost in air combat in that period in which not a single Red jet was shot down although nine were damaged. Seven of the planes were shot down by Communist anti-aircraft fire. One F-80 Shooting Star jet was lost because of mechanical failure.

In the preceding week the Fifth Air Force lost 14 warplanes. The weekly average Allied loss has been about 10.

Despite the fierce opposition of Communist anti-aircraft batteries, U. N. warplanes Friday continued their round-the-clock attacks on Red targets.

Arizona Governor Orders Probe Of Escape After Winnie Ruth Judd Is Found

Phoenix, Ariz., (AP)—Gov. Howard Pyle said yesterday Winnie Ruth Judd's latest escape from the State Hospital for the Insane is under investigation "to see if a serious attempt is being made to obstruct justice."

The 48-year-old trunk murderer returned Thursday night after her fifth escape from the institution. She fled the hospital last Saturday.

"My concern," said the Governor, "is whether there is organized outside or inside effort being made to interfere in the case of Winnie Ruth Judd."

"It should be carefully investigated and a stop put to it at once. From my discussion with the board, I am inclined to think that it is a question of sympathetic patients and outsiders who have helped her get out, and who have harbored her after she got out."

The governor discussed the case with O. D. Miller, chairman of the board of control of the State hospital, and Maricopa county attorney Warren McCarthy.

Miller said he did not think there was any organized plot to liberate Mrs. Judd.

Dr. M. W. Conway, hospital director, said Mrs. Judd may never tell the whole story of her escape. "People who have been confined a long time have a code of ethics," he said. "She will never disclose how she escaped."

Dr. Conway, who found the bed-ragged and exhausted "Tiger" woman of 21 years ago standing at his door Thursday night, said there was little doubt that she received aid, and possibly planned to leave the country by airplane.

He said she had told him she felt she wouldn't be picked up if she could get to Guatemala.

Air Force Trims Production Goal

Washington (AP)—Assistant Air Secretary G. L. Gilpatrick testified yesterday the Air Force has been ordered to cut its costs by five billion dollars and has had to trim its production goal from 1,250 to 950 planes a month by the end of 1953.

Gilpatrick told a House armed services subcommittee the reduction is part of a slowdown in the re-armament program under the current military budget, which is lower than the armed services originally sought.

He said the reduction is one reason why the government cancelled a 69 million dollar contract awarded to the Fisher Body division of General Motors for 757 turret lathes.

Amendment Proposed
Washington (AP)—Fifty-six senators joined yesterday in proposing a constitutional amendment to prevent the use of treaties and presidential agreements "to undermine the sovereignty of the United States."

The subcommittee met to talk over the situation anyway, and after the session Gillette told newsmen Eaton has displayed a "failure to cooperate."

Joining Boy Scouts Sets Off Whirl Of Events For 11-Year-Old Youngster From Fairfax, Va.

Washington (AP)—Things have been happening just a little too fast for young Dick Hunt.

Dick, full name: Richard Lee Hunt, is a solemn, brown-haired 11-year-old from Fairfax, Va. A few days ago he joined the Boy Scouts. All he expected was a fairly quiet round of hiking, fire-building, camping and similar Boy Scout pastimes.

Boy, did he have a surprise coming!

It just happened that Dick, whose father keeps a general store at Fairfax, was the 19 millionth person to join the Boy Scout movement in this country.

And Boy Scout leaders, now celebrating the 42nd anniversary of the movement, threw the spotlight of nation-wide publicity on Dick.

With 13 specially picked Eagle Scouts, he's been whisked in the past few days from a birthday luncheon in New York to a whirlwind Washington tour—the Pentagon, the FBI headquarters, the Capitol—and a breakfast yesterday morning with senators and Cabinet members.

Then, suddenly, in the White House rose garden, Dick found himself face to face with the President of the United States.

Accept Two Phases Of Red Proposal

Munsan, Korea, Saturday (AP)—The Allies today agreed in part to a Communist proposal for a high-level conference after an armistice but insisted that it be limited to Korean questions.

The Communists in advancing their proposal Wednesday had proposed that the conference deal with "other problems in Asia" related to the Korean question, which might well include the hot spot of Formosa.

The Allies also proposed that the Republic of Korea be included in the conference. The Communist plan had ignored South Korea.

In their reply, the United Nations command agreed to the first two Communist points:

1.—Withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea.
2.—Peaceful settlement of the Korean question.

But on the third point they proposed "other Korean questions related to peace" in place of "other problems in Asia related to the Korean question."

The Communist proposal that the conference be held within 90 days after an armistice is signed.

The allied plan simply proposes that steps be taken, within a period of three months, to deal with these matters at a higher level in a political conference for a Korean settlement or by such other political means as they deem appropriate.

The Communist proposal calls for a conference to be held between five representatives of the North Korean and Chinese Communist governments and five from United Nations members engaged in the Korean war.

The Communists had left out the Republic of South Korea as one of the negotiating parties, but the U. N. Command insisted it be included.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior allied envoy, told the Communists at the plenary session:

"The draft principle proposed by your delegations on the fifth item of the agenda has received our careful consideration. We have found certain matters contained therein with which we are in substantial agreement; others which we have not considered necessary but to which we had no objection, and a few modifications, primarily of phrasing, which we consider advisable for reasons which we believe will be obvious."

The plenary session lasted only 10 minutes. Another meeting will be held at 10 a. m. Sunday (8 p. m. EST., Saturday).

Mayor Fined $50 On Charges Of Slugging Newsmen

Beaumont, Calif., (AP)—Mayor G. P. (Jack) Hamilton, 53, of Beaumont, yesterday paid $50 fine after pleading guilty to slugging James Jaeger, 33, a Beaumont Gazette reporter.

"I'll try to hold my temper down," Mayor Hamilton told Peace Justice E. E. Theriault of Palm Springs. Reporter Jaeger was not in court.

Mayor Hamilton was charged with assault and battery after he slugged the reporter Jan. 10. The mayor objected to a story by Jaeger which accused the mayor and other city council members of demanding that news be withheld about Robert Bruce's resignation as city recreation commission chairman. Bruce also is a policeman.

Epstein, Screen Writer, Expires

Los Angeles (AP)—Philip Epstein, 42-year-old screen writer, died Thursday night. With his brother, Julius, he wrote the screen version of "The Male Animal," "The Man Who Came To Dinner," "Arsenic and Old Lace," "Casablanca" and others.

Epstein came here from New York in 1934 after graduating from Penn State. Both brothers were outstanding college boxers.

Lindahl Denies Plans To Resign

Harrisburg (AP)—Oscar N. Lindahl, executive director of the General State authority, denied yesterday reports he plans to resign his $18,000 a year post.

And Gov. John S. Fine described as "wholly unfounded" speculation that members of the borrow-and-build agency have been critical of Lindahl.

Tunkhannock Twp. School Board Endorses Drennan Tax Plan

Group Favors Assessment Equalization

One Monroe county township school board went on record this week in favor of the Drennan plan for equalization of assessed valuation on a county-wide basis.

That township was Tunkhannock which runs Price a close second for the lowest berth in assessed valuation. (Tunkhannock is valued at $122,748; Price at $111,596.)

In a letter to Monroe county Superintendent of Schools John C. Litts, Isaac F. Dyson said:

"At a meeting held Feb. 4, 1952, the Board of Directors of Tunkhannock township approved of the tax equalization plan."

Dyson is secretary of the Tunkhannock board. The letter was dated Feb. 5.

The Tunkhannock endorsement was the first official approval of the Drennan plan has received from township directors. As outlined in a letter to the township boards by Drennan the directors were to submit their approval or disapproval by mail to either Harry Drennan himself, who serves as secretary of the county board and is a member of Barrett township's board of directors or to the county offices.

Most school boards do not meet until next week and are expected to take up the proposal at that meeting.

The Drennan plan would equalize all township and borough assessed valuations at 33 and one-third per cent of their individual market value.

Tunkhannock would be comparatively unaffected by the plan. Its assessed value now stands at 27 per cent of the total true value according to State Tax Equalization board figures.

One of the main features of Drennan's proposal—the equalization of assessments at a certain, stated percentage of the market value of the township or borough—has now become law.

Gov. John S. Fine last week signed into law Act 606 which makes it mandatory that county commissioners establish a definite per cent figure from which all assessments are to be figured.

Act 606 does not, however, state that the percentage is to be any specific amount. This means that Monroe county commissioners may set the figure at 33 and one-third (or lower, if they wish) or at any other figure up to 75 per cent, the maximum provided by the law.

The per cent ratio of assessed value to market value must be made public by the commissioners. The problem of assessment now lies entirely in the hands of the county assessor who is responsible for figuring the total assessed value on property.

Local assessors continue in an "informational only" capacity. Information and description concerning all properties in townships and boroughs will be provided by the local assessor. He retains no authority over the amount for which the property is assessed.

Monroe county commissioners have not, as yet, taken any definite action in connection with the Drennan proposal. The plan was outlined to them in a letter at the same time it was mailed to school directors in the county.

In the letter, Drennan offered to appear before the commissioners to explain the plan more fully. Although the commissioners have stated officially that they will invite Drennan in, no definite date has been set.

McGraw Co. Acquires New Plant

McGraw Electric Co., owner of the varied Line Material Co. operations, is concluding contrast negotiations between 60 stockholders of Pennsylvania Transformer Co. for carrying out a tax free exchange of Pennsylvania Transformer stock for McGraw Electric stock. The exchange will require 135,000 shares of McGraw Electric stock. No cash is involved.

Thus, McGraw Electric is acquiring a firm with a 1951 sales volume in excess of $17,000,000. The firm has a backlog of about $22,000,000. The company manufactures a complete line of power transformers, specializing in the larger sizes of high-voltage transformers, the size of some single units being in excess of 100,000 KVA. They also manufacture the largest sizes of voltage regulators for power circuits.

The Pennsylvania Transformer Co. plant, built during the war, has floor space exceeding one million square feet. The plant is of fire-proof construction, equipped with large electric cranes for handling the heaviest equipment. It is located at Canonsburg, Pa., 18 miles from Pittsburgh, and is situated on 216 acres of land, including important water rights.

It is contemplated that the Pennsylvania plant will supplement the manufacture of transformers by the Line Material Co. division of McGraw Electric Co. at Zanesville, O., with additional production of the larger sizes on which McGraw Electric Co. has been short of production facilities.

McGraw Electric's expansion, especially beginning with Line Material in 1949, has enabled the company to substantially diversify its line and become a major producer of electrical equipment, one of the major lines being produced at Line Material of East Stroudsburg.

The concern now rates among the top three or four companies in the industry. Sales of the combined companies during 1951 were in excess of $204,000,000. McGraw Electric has been known for many years as producer of Toastmaster toasters, Buss fuses and other electrical appliances and devices.

Trout-Stocking Under Way In County; Streams Closed Between March 15-April 15

Monte county fish warden Floyd Bachman this week began stocking public streams with trout.

The annual "stocking" process precedes the trout season which opens April 15. Fish for the purpose are being taken this year from the State fishery at Pleasant Mount in Wayne county.

No fishing is allowed in the State between midnight March 14 and 45 a. m. April 15 except in rivers, lakes and ponds not stocked with trout. Penalty for failure to comply with the law which was passed in 1949 is a fine of $5 and costs for the first offense and $20 and costs in all violations thereafter.

Due to some confusion concerning the proper interpretation of the law during last year, the State Fish Commission has issued the following clarifying remark:

"... even though a creek has never been stocked with trout, it comes within the provisions of the act and is closed during this period. Only rivers, lakes and ponds that are not stocked with trout remain open."

The commission further points out that the day's limit of trout beginning April 15 is eight instead of ten as in previous years.

A written request was received by the East Stroudsburg School board from the Federal Security Agency, Office of Education, Washington, D. C. this week. At its meeting last night, the board approved the plan.

The teacher, Dieta Mueller of Bremerhaven, Germany will arrive at the East Stroudsburg School 24 and will observe instruction in the classes there through April 18. Miss Mueller is specializing in elementary education but is also interested in teaching English.

The German teachers—189 in all—have been brought to America so that they may observe the manner in which this nation's educational system works.

In addition to approving the proposal to allow the German teacher to spend one month at its schools, the board made arrangements to administer the loyalty oath recently passed by the Legislature. Officials estimate the oath-signing will be initiated "within the next two weeks."

Bids were opened for second-class supplies. The contract was awarded to Kemmerer Paper Co., Allentown, whose low bid was $3,200 for the 1952-53 school year.

Three deeds were filed at the office of Floyd Butz, register and recorder at the court house yesterday. In one Amos E. and Gloria C. Smith, of Stroudsburg, transferred lot 16 in Albert J. Scavo tract, to Lois White, of Anasimink.

J. B. Welch and Muriel F. Welch, of Jackson township, transferred a tract of 116.4 acres in the same area to Katherine J. Caye, also of Jackson.

The third transfer was by Charles M. Andrew and Lucie E. Andrew, of Gilbert for lot 22 in Hamilton township to William H. and Unetta B. Hildebrandt, also of Hamilton.

C. A. Meixell, Former County Sheriff, Dies

Chester A. Meixell, 68, former sheriff of Monroe county, died at his home, 1209 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, at 2:15 p.m. yesterday. He had been in failing health since last October 1 and seriously ill the past five weeks.

Mr. Meixell was a native of Bangor, son of the late Alvin and Sally (Ehler) Meixell, but spent practically all his life in Stroudsburg. His wife, Mrs. Jennie Meixell, at home, is his sole survivor.

He was engaged for many years in the insurance and newspaper business and served as sheriff of the county from 1940 to 1944 and in late years as constable in the Fourth ward, Stroudsburg, an office he still retained at time of death.

Mr. Meixell entered the employ of the Prudential Insurance Co. in 1914 in Stroudsburg and was transferred to the Camden area where he remained for a period of two years. Returning to Stroudsburg he took charge of the business of the Colonial Insurance Co.

For a period of 12 years, Mr. Meixell was engaged in the newspaper field. He was circulation manager of the Morning Press, then advertising manager of the Morning Sun, (which he helped organize) both former East Stroudsburg publications. Later he became circulation solicitor of The Daily Record which position he relinquished on being elected sheriff of the county.

On leaving the county office, he was elected constable in Stroudsburg's Fourth ward. He was also a conductor on the trolley line operating between the two Stroudsburgs.

Mr. Meixell was a member of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church and the Brotherhood of the church.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Daniel G. Warner funeral home, Stroudsburg. Rev. Dr. P. N. Wohlsein, pastor of St. John's church, will officiate. Interment will be made in the Stroudsburg cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Monday after 7 p.m.

Rush On Dog Tags Noted In County

The announcement of the visit of Edward L. Banks, dog license investigator to the county treasurer's office at the court house this week to check on licenses taken out for this year, resulted in quite a rush at the office yesterday.

Many dog owners took out their licenses to avoid possible prosecution which would prove much more costly than the original charge for the license. The dog license period for 1952 was effective January 15.

Death of a Good Friend

The untimely death of King George VI shocked the free world into a deep sense of sorrow and thrust the burden of rule over the British Commonwealth and Empire onto the shoulders of 25-year-old Princess Elizabeth.

His passing marks the end of an era in which England has traveled the most tortuous path in its history. He ruled with great sympathy and dignity, courageously leading his subjects in a period of unmatched turbulence.

Decline of the King's health came in the latter years of his 15-year reign, years that were weighted with the terrific strain of maintaining the bonds of empire as part of the free world surrounded by totalitarianism. He gave unstintingly of his time and strength to hold his people together, ignoring the fragile state of his body.

The King's death came as a shock, since he had been believed well on the road to recovery from a dangerous operation last September. It was only a few short days ago that Princess Elizabeth departed England to make a tour of colonies which her father had planned, but which his fragile health made unwise.

Now she is queen, the first woman to rule over the Commonwealth and Empire since her grandmother, Queen Victoria, died 51 years ago. Now will the years of preparing her for rulership come to its great test. She is confronted by momentous times and will need great strength and courage to carry on in a period of world tenseness. May God bless her with that same courage and greatness that has marked her forebearers.

Our bonds of friendship with England are strong. Our sorrow at the passing of her King is genuine. Our prayers for the success and long life of his daughter, the new Queen, are sincere.

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture—Luke 10:38-42; John 11:45; 12:1-2.

By Newman Campbell

Most of us have close friends in whose homes we visit and who often come to see us. Sad indeed is the person who has none. The family at Bethany, consisting of the sisters, Martha and Mary, and their brother Lazarus, were friends of Jesus. He seems to have visited them whenever He was in Bethany, and they loved Him for Himself as a man is well as for his Savior. Think what it must have meant to have the Master as a guest in the home!

Martha was apparently the homemaker, much concerned with serving good meals and keeping the house spotless. She probably was over-solicitous in such matters—therefore Jesus' gentle rebuke.

On the other hand, it is annoying for the scrupulous housekeeper to feel she needs help in certain household matters, and have another member of the family who should be sharing the responsibility not doing so. Martha's annoyance can be thus understood, even if she was over-estimating the importance of her work.

At any rate, while Martha prepared the meal in honor of their beloved Guest, Mary sat at His feet, drinking in His words and doubtless pondering them.

At last Martha could stand it no longer, and she appealed to Jesus: "Lord, dost Thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? Bid her therefore that she should help me."

"And Jesus answered and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things: but one thing is needful: and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her."

When Jesus was taken from earth and they could no longer have Him as their guest, how thankful Mary must have been that she did not leave Him to help prepare an elaborate meal—part of which was unnecessary! This episode shows the difference in the sisters' natures, but both dearly loved their brother, Lazarus, and when he became ill and died, they were greatly grieved. Oh, if Jesus had only been with them, they must have thought; He would have saved their brother.

The sisters had sent word to Jesus who was about two days' journey from Bethany, in Perea. Martha and Mary had sent the message, simply, "He whom Thou lovest is sick." Jesus did not immediately start for Bethany, according to St. John. He waited two days, then set out.

When Martha heard of His coming, she went to meet Him.

and said, "If Thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. But I know, that even now, whatsoever Thou wilt ask of God, God will give it Thee."

Jesus answered, "Thy brother shall rise again." Martha said, "I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day."

Jesus said, "I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live. And whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die. Believest thou this?"

"She saith unto Him, Yea, Lord; I believe that Thou art the Christ, the Son of God, He that comest into the world."

After this Martha went home and told Mary that the Lord was come and was asking for her, so Mary went quickly and fell at the Master's feet and wept. Jesus "groaned in the spirit, and was troubled," and these near said, "Behold how He loved him!"

Jesus asked where Lazarus was laid, and when they came to the place, He told them to take away the stone. They were reluctant to do so because they said he had been buried for four days and the body would have begun to decay.

Jesus insisted, and when the stone was taken away, He thanked His heavenly Father "that Thou hast heard Me." He called out in a loud voice, "Lazarus, come forth!"

"And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with grave clothes; and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go."

Many of the Jews that were with Mary and had seen this miracle, believed in Him.

Six days before the passover Jesus came again to Bethany, and a supper was made, which Martha served, and of those who sat at table with the Lord was Lazarus whom He had raised from the dead.

Memory Verse: "She saith unto Him, Yea, Lord; I have believed that Thou art Christ the Son of God, even He that comest into the world."—John 11:27.

How Silly Can We Get?

Rep. F. Edward Hebert, a Louisiana Democrat, has just saved the nation $200,000, with the remark: "How silly can we get?" And he's so right. He discovered that the Air Force had been testing for "safety and durability" some super deluxe upholstered chairs for typists. The plan was to purchase 20,156 of the items at a cost of more than half a million dollars.

Hebert estimated the chairs would have cost $200,000 over and above the cost of ordinary chairs purchased by the General Services Administration. Said Hebert: "Let them (the Air Force) use their personnel for testing of chairs to the General Service Administration."

Even in these days of $85 billion budgets, $200,000 is worth saving. After all, it does represent the total taxes paid by a lot of workers, who for a long time have been asking of Washington: "How silly can you get?"

Money for Veterans

Despite high prices and high taxes, some 600,000 veterans of World War Two must be pretty well off.

There are about $100 millions lying in the Treasury waiting for them.

It is the dividend to which they are entitled on the government insurance they paid for while they were in service.

The government collected far more than it needed to pay claims, and declared a dividend. Most of the 16 million veterans claimed theirs, but 600,000 didn't.

Even the short-time soldier is due $50 or so. All these veterans need to do is to identify themselves to the Veterans Administration.

All in the Family

—By Jack Laith

This business of writing columns, at which I have had long and varied experience, sets off strange reactions.

Eliminating letter writers who are advanced mental cases, who want information, seek publicity or volunteer to do the job better than the professional can, and getting down to the panners and the praisers, many humans bitterly resent or extravagantly worship the written word—and those who commit it.

In this underworld there is a classification for certain men and women, who are known as "copy-fighters." They may be timid with shoe clerks or janitors, but they see flashes of red shooting from a blue uniform, and they not only resist, but attack, authority.

That is deflected in a measure by as many who, perhaps with frustrated longings to impress their opinions on the public, resent those who have the opportunities which had eluded them.

They snarl and sneer, question the sources of statements, the accuracy of data, the grammar, the form, the spirit, and above all, the motives.

"How much did so-and-so pay you under the table for that piece?"

That is a recurrent perennial. "Is that guy your brother-in-law?"

One cannot turn out pieces forever without sometimes saying friendly things about others. Yet such copy is suspect to a large segment of the population.

But these doubters are fewer than the showerers of kudos and encouragement.

Those, too, probably are persons who have had a yen to write but never made it. And by transference, or projection, or something, they feel they are getting into the act by setting up comradesly relations with one who has a by-line.

They not only seek harmonious penetration by taking the trouble to sit down, write at length and post their letters, but they want to meet us in person.

Though I am grateful for such enthusiasm, I do feel that I should let it extend too far into my personal life, of which I have little enough.

Fan-mail is gratifying. No one outlives his pleasure in getting it. I gladly send out autographs and get writer's cramp signing the fly leaves of my books. In my library are a number of volumes inscribed to me, which I value highly. I am a fan, too.

But I have stopped drinking, so offers in that direction do not attract me. I can partake of lunch and dinner on only so many days in any week.

Since I write at times about crime and law-breakers, I draw a lot of mail from crooks, ex-crooks, men who have done time, retired policemen and specialists in types of larceny and mayhem, who want to further enlighten me across a table or at a bar.

For years I went out of my way to spend time with them. Some did yield material.

After "The Big House" was published it seemed to me every con, when he got out of the stir, beat a path to my door to give me the inside, the lowdown, the real McCoy.

They didn't want anything; only to pour into my ear their individual tales and their viewpoints on prisons and those in them. Here and there I gleaned a grain of something new. But,

HEAD WORK IN WASHINGTON

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

A $10,000 contest has just been announced by The Christophers, a religious organization of which the Rev. James Keller is the head.

The contest is open to "all people who have a story to tell on how one person helped to make a better world."

"Literary style is secondary in this contest," said Father Keller. "Truth, sincerity and real achievement even in an apparently small way are important. The mere listing of facts in a letter could suffice."

"Real achievement even in an apparently small way."

That specification should bring millions of entries to the contest.

Almost every day we read about some BIG achievement—something that gets front pages in the newspapers and is "the talk of the town."

over all, their tales were rather monotonously the same.

Once you encourage one of these men, they are your friends forever—too friendly. They meet others of their kind and that gives them new topics which they feel, in a kindly way, they should transmit forthwith—and personally, in whispers, with furtive glances all around, as their missions are all sacredly confidential, of course.

I have had every variation of the con-game described to me in complete detail so often that I fear some day I will swindle myself.

Whenever I do an anecdote on the Canada Kid, the dips track me down to tell me the new ones and recount all the old ones of their ancient craft.

But Duffy the Goat really gets me swamped. He is a stickler, a slugger-killer, not a skilled mechanic. Therefore more feel they can discuss tough bruisers with me than would want to go into such scientific professions as safe-blowing, oilstock-gyping and diamond-palming.

These are all nice guys and I confess they interest me. It hurts me to shake them off.

place, breaks the furniture in the hotels and generally provides good cheer.

This side of the Legion is more pleasing to some veterans of World War I than it is to the young men of World War II, who look at the world through different eyes and who realize that their country has suffered its first defeat. In fact, although in the past the politicians and permanent jobholders in the Legion have kept older men at the helm, the tendency in recent years has been to give the newer elements a chance.

The present National Commander, Donald R. Wilson, is only 34 years old and a brilliant lawyer and orator. Although a National Commander lasts only one year, it is refreshing to the outsider to witness the new type of leadership which he presents.

His advocacy of the Legion as a spiritual force, his "Back to God" movement, his speeches in which he calls for a return to church attendance, is giving to the Legion new stimulation that is attracting widespread, favorable attention.

Such articles as "Did the Movies Really Clean House?" by J. B. Matthews; "How the Reds Invaded Radio," by Louis Budenz; "Terror by Law," by George N. Craig; "Why You Buy Books That Sell Communism," by Irene Corbally Kuhn, and "Our New Privileged Class," by Eugene Lyons, are among an important series of articles which are making magazine history. It just shows what a fearless editor can do in a field where so many fear to tread.

The Legion also maintains a National Americanism Commission which provides a monthly news service of very great value. A special research staff under the direction of Karl Baarslag, a

The Legion is important. An organization of 3,000,000 members can accomplish much in the reconstruction of our country. The change, for instance, in the character and make-up of the "American Legion Magazine," under the direction of James F. O'Neill, gives the Legion a status as an intellectual and social force which it had not had before.

This magazine has been publishing articles of special significance in the fight against Communism. In fact, some of these articles were such as frightened the editors of national magazines who prefer what they call non-controversial topics. Many of them publish articles and stories by well-known Communists and fellow-travelers on the assumption that they are not controversial, a conclusion that would not pass even elementary logic.

former naval intelligence officer, has produced a vast amount of valuable data in brochure form. This is now issued in a pamphlet entitled "The Firing Line," and is widely used by persons outside the Legion who are interested in the subject.

In this field no national organization is doing a comparable work. In the motion picture field, those who are studying the problem admit that the greatest fear is the American Legion. Their opposition to a picture because of its content or because Communists have had a part in the making of it can kill the box-office. That makes the picture a defective product because it encounters unusual sales resistance.

The American Legion and the Catholic War Veterans have played a notable role in cleaning up this industry, although thus far neither has been very successful with radio or television, both of which are infested by Stalin's little creatures. As many actors, writers, directors go from the movies to television, the Legion's position has an important indirect effect.

The Catholic War Veterans have, in the past, been effective in picketing houses that showed unacceptable movies. The American Legion, while it took a strong position, avoided picketing. However, Hollywood (California) Post No. 43 took the lead in advocating a picketing resolution which, if widely adopted, may drive the final nail into the coffin of Communist hopes of using the movies for subversive purposes or to raise funds from the employment of its members in this industry.

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

The cameramen and cast of a big television crew trekked over to the wide open spaces of Jersey City recently to shoot a couple of sequences for a horse oprey. The story involved the flight of an ornery cattle thief over the Mexican border. The camera crew set up shop on one of the main New Jersey highways.

The director found one stretch that had no buildings in view and had his technicians post a sign reading "Last gas station before the border. Twenty miles of uninhabited desert past this sign." By the time the director had rounded up his cast, he was dumfounded to discover a string of seventeen cars with out-of-state licenses lined up in front of his prop gas station. Although the towers of Newark were clearly visible ahead, these cautious drivers were taking no chances. They wanted their tanks full before braving those "twenty miles of uninhabited desert."

The old Roman emperors believed in lots of circuses for the people. But did they give 'em a couple a week on TV?

My heart goes out to you when I read of all the attacks on you but do not be too depressed, as it may be because you are not recognized as a dues-paying member of the Washington Probers Union and still retain your amateur standing. There may also be a feeling against you on account of you are a prober who is not running for office anywhere and who is not even in a fight to retain a committee seat. From what I hear, however, there is a genuine fear you will get lost. But cheer up, Newbold. All you need is a miracle, a mild winter and, like I said before, a little help from Admiral Byrd. If you want any more advice from me, I would say you need a more dramatic touch. The coonskin hat is copyrighted by Kefauver, but how about some Buffalo Bill leggings? You are a top fancy skater and have won amateur championships on the ice. Could you name Sonja Henie on your staff and get real glamour into the inquiry? There are so many probes in Washington that an extra will never mean much unless there is real showmanship and a telecast. Anyhow, do not lose heart. Always remember you are in no worse spot than Bobby Thomson when he came up in that deciding game with the Brooklyn Bums and broke up the ball game. Few Democrats or Republicans had faith in him, either.

Solicitously yours, ELMER

Lincoln Theme For Beacon Club Refreshments

The Beacon club of Chipperfield Drive at their business meeting held Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Howard Teada ordered cards and dish towels, which they plan to sell, along with aprons which they are making, for the benefit of the club treasury.

The members spent some time sewing and knitting after the meeting. The refreshments were served by Mrs. Teada at a table decorated in the Lincoln's birthday motif. A log cabin formed the centerpiece with red, white, and blue dessert formed by placing vanilla ice cream on red dollies and topping it with blue-tinted coconut. The cup cakes too had miniature cabins in icing, and tiny logs held each place card.

Members present were Mrs. William Evans, Mrs. John L. Sone, Mrs. Laura Marsh, Mrs. Lona Arnold, Mrs. Harold Lee, Mrs. Mabel Papillon, Mrs. J. C. Berry, Mrs. Howard Hallett, Mrs. Earl Sandt, Mrs. Earl Lee Jr., and Mrs. C. G. Bush and the hostess, Mrs. Teada.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Some nights the news is much more fun to write than other nights—and the stories of two woman's clubs turning simultaneously from such weighty subjects as international relations, inflation and the duties of citizenship to such a frivolous and spring-like topic as hats must reflect the growing vitamins in the sun's rays or something.

And I was very much tempted to leave that phrase in the story of the Cub dinner unexplained and you wondering what kind of double-talk was "more spoons on their doodle".

And they had more stars on their crowns than you'd have believed possible for that age boys—though, if I know Cubs, those crowns were probably quite battered by the end of the party.

Oh kids are fun—and it's too bad that the Smithfield amateur show lasted so late or we'd have plenty of stories to tell you about the lamp black that came off to reveal quite real little boys under that mammy make-up.

About the crowd, that literally bulged out the doors of the auditorium and about the band—which did itself proud even after losing 27 members by graduation last year.

The kids are the ones with stars in their crowns, stars in their eyes—and the parents are the ones with black circles under their eyes, and bald spots where their crowns used to be.

MR. AND MRS. Milton Chester are shown cutting their wedding cake at the reception which followed their marriage in Alamogordo, N.M.

Milton Chester Home With Bride From New Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. Milton R. Chester have arrived from New Mexico on a wedding trip to visit Mr. Chester's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard P. C. Chester, of 726 Main St., Stroudsburg.

The bride is the former Miss Della Ann Herrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon R. Herrell, of 1323 Florida Ave., Alamogordo, New Mexico, and they were married on February 1 at 7 p. m. in the Grace Methodist church in Alamogordo. Rev. H. H. Allen performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gold gabbard suit with brown accessories and a corsage of white orchids. For something old she wore her maternal grandmother's wedding handkerchief, for something borrowed a bracelet of her aunt's, with a penny in her shoe, and for something blue—a pair of blue earrings.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Curtis Finnell, sister of the bride of Elk City, Oklahoma, who wore a beige suit with a corsage of yellow roses.

The bridesmaid was another sister, Jimmie Lou Herrell, who wore a navy blue suit with a corsage of pink roses. The candle-lighters were Gordona Harteil, sister of the bride, and Linda Hightower, a cousin of the bride with both girls wearing light green faille dresses and corsages of baby orchids.

Donald Murphy of Holdicoe, Nebraska, and Mike Julian, of Kansas City, Kans. were senior ushers with Tommie Carl Herrell, brother of the bride and LeRoy Hightower Jr., cousin of the bride, as junior ushers.

The church was banked with greens and white candles arranged against the white background. Mrs. Ray Magone, of Vancouver, Wash., was organist and Donald Clark of Sulphur, Oklahoma, was vocalist singing "I Love Thee" "Because of You", "Because", and "The Lord's Prayer".

A reception followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hightower, of 1718 Teresa Lane, where Mrs. Hightower served the cake, and Mrs. Joe Gilmer serving the punch. The bride's mother received the guests wearing a navy blue faille dress with white accessories. Among the guests were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hightower of Sentinel, Okla.

After their wedding trip to Stroudsburg Mr. and Mrs. Chester will live at 700 16th St., Alamogordo, N. M., where he is stationed with the 680th Air Force Band. Mr. Chester, who was recently ordained as a minister, plans to continue at ministerial school after his discharge from the service.

Hartmans Entertain At Dinner Hill

Cherry Lane—Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hartman provided unusual entertainment on Wednesday night, for Mr. and Mrs. William Clugston, who visited them in their new home on Dinner Hill.

Mr. Hartman and his family have done most of the work on this attractive bungalow, equipped with every modern convenience. They have one of the finest views in the county over many miles of country, even beyond the Gap, which panorama is framed by a very large picture window in the living room.

The time was spent viewing colored slides taken by their daughter, Bobby, who is now in the African Congo. They covered her journey by freighter from New Orleans and Port Arthur, Texas, m. n. taken on board ship of members of the party and crew, and various phases of the ship's activities. Particularly beautiful were the ones of rainbows over the ocean and at one point the ship seemed to be passing right under the arch of the rainbow.

Pictures of Dakar and other points on the African coast, of their journey up the Congo river, of the plane which took them further into the interior, of the natives and a beautifully colored one of the market place, made up the collection.

These slides will soon be sent over to Africa as Bobby has not yet seen them, and they will include several of her own family and familiar home scenes. Amzi LaBar loaned his projector for the purpose of showing these slides.

Afterwards cards were enjoyed with refreshments, winding up a memorable time.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Freshmen At Stroudsburg High School To Take Series Of Aptitude Tests

Stroudsburg High school freshmen are scheduled to begin a series of "aptitude" tests Wednesday, Feb. 13 at 8:45 a.m.

School officials believe the tests will offer an insight into the student's personal capabilities which may prove invaluable in helping him to choose a course of study.

The tests are so devised that a complete analysis of the individual results will give an accurate picture of the varying degree of talent shown by the student toward any one of six different categories of work.

These divisions are: "personal-social", "mechanical", "general sales", "clerical routine", "computational" and "scientific". Samuel Wells, assistant principal of the school, emphasizes that the divisions are not individually restrictive. An "aptitude" for mechanics or drawing may be shown by a student who has an equally high talent potential in the field of science.

The aptitude tests, called "California tests for occupation", are the second step provided by the school in an attempt to better understand its students. A previous series given at Stroudsburg was the Kuder "preference" test which gives the student a chance to determine his active interests in various subjects and fields through objective testing.

The results of the test will not be immediately available, Wells said. Graphs and personal analyses will be filed with the student's record.

Alexander Coles, arrived home on Thursday to spend his mid-semester holiday weekend from St. James School, Hagerstown, Md.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Trouble set in on the Pocono Mountains League for the first time this season recently, when the West End entry split into two factions and as many teams were formed. West End, made up of former Polk High school stars, will continue to operate in the circuit, while those players from Brodheadsville who left the West End confines will operate as an independent unit and play the preliminary games on the West End program, held at Polk High. The West End unit was originally composed of players from both Brodheadsville and Kresgeville.

The combination was originally formed to add power to the club and probably draw spectators from both localities. However, the two factions came to a parting of the ways following a game in Tannersville recently, although the West End club has plenty of material left to remain in the pennant fight. West End is currently entrenched in the number three position in the standing. Brodheadsville will play only independent games for the remainder of the campaign.

Marty Baldwin, local sportsman, attended the recent New York Baseball Writers' dinner and was among those thrilled by the song rendered by Ralph Branca, goat of last fall's final playoff game between the Dodgers and Giants. Branca has been the target of writers, sportscasters and fans since Bobby Thomson blasted his game winning home run. However, everyone took a bow to the Brooklyn hurler after he sang to the huge crowd. It was reportedly the greatest thing that has happened at the annual affair in its long history.

Jim Thurston, social director of Pocono Gardens Lodge, is in the midst of reorganizing Podunk University, a basketball team originally formed at Keystone Junior College and the holder of a 15-4 record during the 1950-1951 campaign. Thurston is to be assisted in the operation of PU for the remainder of the season by Marty Asbacher and Al "Goats" Goedecke, both of ESSTC, and Ed "Crash" Kriner, Barrett High coach. Thurston reports that Paul "Thunder" McGovern and Jack "Siren" Swartz, both former ESSTC cage stars, will also play some games with Podunk University.

Those interested in Biddy Basketball will miss a golden opportunity to see some of the finer points of the game tonight, if they don't attend the doubleheader at Clearview school. The first half of the program will feature a demonstration of the game by Jay Archer, a graduate of ESSTC and official founder of the game. The second half of the attraction will feature a Biddy team from the Monroe County YMCA opposing the Clearview Indians, a similar club from the Clearview school.

Claude Cramer, one of the important figures behind the Stroudsburg Poconos when Monroe county was represented in professional baseball, prior to the collapse of the class "D" North Atlantic league, and the Mrs. will join four other couples for a vacation at Pinehurst, N.C. starting today, and some golf on the famous course. Eddie Judge made it known yesterday that Tobyhanna Township will hold its annual booster banquet for the TTHS basketball team in the very near future. The date will be set within the next few days.

Ray Welsh, former ESSTC coach is keeping busy on the banquet circuit. One of Ray's recent outings was at Avoca High, where he was the featured speaker. Also on hand were such major leaguers as Al Widmar, Chicago White Sox; Jim Walsh, Pittsburgh Pirates, and Joe Collins, New York Yankees. Bangor fans are wondering what the future holds in store for their court machine, especially since Bob Slack, a six-foot, three inch cager, has transferred from Belvidere High. Bob will be eligible for action next season.

Bangor loses only one of its present performers, namely Asa Pysher, from next season's club. However, the absence of Pysher will be a major loss to Coach John Heard during the 1952-1953 campaign. Tannersville's two-game lead in the Pocono Mountains League may prove tough to overcome for Tobyhanna, especially since the current campaign is shorter than in past years. Tannersville has now won two of three games against Tobyhanna.

The East Stroudsburg High school Alumni team is so intent on getting in a few practice sessions for its Tuesday, February 19 date with the high school quintet, that it is even holding a practice session today at 8 a.m.—yes, in the morning. The contest is being played on East Stroudsburg's open date in the second-half of the Lehigh-Northampton League flag race. It is the first alumni-varsity game to be played at the N. Courtland St. gym in recent years.

Parkland Inflicts Second Loss On East Stroudsburg

Steele's 23 Points Fail To Turn Tide

Wild passes and a host of missed scoring opportunities proved fatal to East Stroudsburg High school last night, as the Parkland Trojans went on to hang a 59-52 basketball defeat on the Cavaliers. It was the second loss in four outings for the charges of Coach Dick Forster in the second-half flag race of the Lehigh-Northampton League.

Parkland scored a clean sweep with a 45-41 victory in the junior varsity contest, as the visiting contingent rallied in the late stages to take home the bacon. Bernard Fish was the big gun for the Eastburg yearlings with a total of nine points.

East Stroudsburg lost several opportunities to take over the lead in the third period, as both clubs went on a scoring famine, and Parkland's greater speed carried the visiting red and black clad contingent to the important victory in the late stages of the final quarter.

The Cavaliers actually held the upper hand in the early portion of the game, as the Forstermen took a 14-11 lead with them into the second quarter. Parkland quickly jumped out in front, and stretched the advantage to eight points, but the Cavaliers came back strong at the bell to trail by only four points, 20-25, at the halfway mark. Parkland had the better of the going in the second stanza, 18-11.

Famine
Both contingents missed shot after shot in the third round and each wound up with a total of seven points for the period, allowing the Trojans to advance into the last quarter with a 36-32 lead. However, both cage machines awoke from their scoring slumber in the final period, but once again Parkland had the better of the going, 23-20, taking advantage of a slow East Stroudsburg defense to bang home the clinchers in the fading minutes, although the Cavaliers also came on strong at the bell to fail by seven points.

East Stroudsburg stayed in the thick of the battle by making 16 of 23 foul shots, while Parkland could register five or 19 conversions from the charity line. However, the Trojans had the better of the field goal department, 27-18.

Ray Steele was the chief point producer for East Stroudsburg, racking up 23 points on nine doubleheaders and five charity shots. Milton Kistler, with 18 counters on nine field goals, paced the winning attack.

Vejar Stops DeFazio In Ninth

New York (AP)—Slow starting "Chico" Vejar, of Stamford, Conn., found himself on the floor in the second round last night and then came on strong to stop chunky Johnny "Red" DeFazio of Bayonne, N. J., in 41 seconds of the ninth round of a ten rounder in Madison Square Garden. Vejar, a five to one favorite, weighed 147 to DeFazio's 147½.

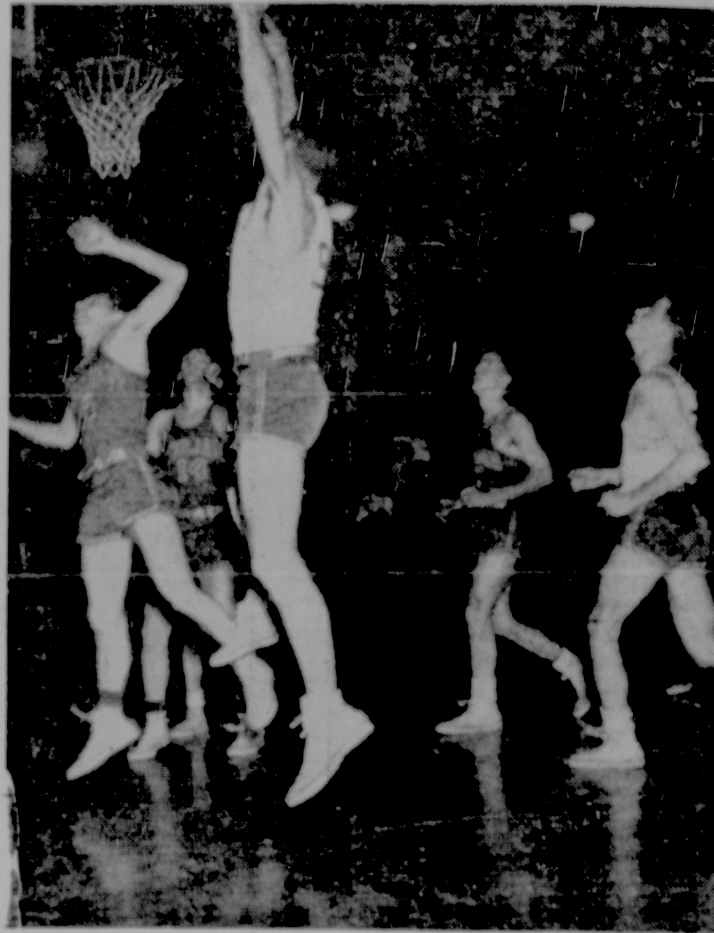

Out to score a knockout before his favored opponent could warm up, DeFazio won the first round and then took the second as he dropped the 20-year-old "Chico" for eight with a nifty right uppercut. Vejar was up at six, but took the eight under the compulsory eight-count rule.

Two Matches Listed

Crow's Insurance, Monroe County's entry in the Delaware Valley Bowling League, will play host to Dainty Potato Chips at the Pocono Bowling Center today, at 8 p.m., then roll against Caputo's Service in Easton tomorrow, at 2:30 p.m. The match with Caputo's club was postponed earlier in the season.

Polk Averages Earlier Setback By Downing Pocono High, 56-42
Tannersville — Polk High averaged an earlier setback at the hands of Pocono last night with a 56-42 victory over the charges of Coach Harry Wertheiser. In the losing contingent's home court, Polk made it a clean sweep by also taking home the bacon in the preliminary tussle, 36-20, over the Pocono junior varsity.

Even Struggle
Polk, taking no chances of dropping two to Pocono in the same season, opened with a bang as Henry and Martin Krechel paced the red and white clad contingent into a 22-10 lead at the

GOING UP — Ray Steele, East Stroudsburg center, is shown above at the peak of his jump in an attempt to grab a rebound in the second period of last night's game with Parkland. However, Paul Kosht (4) had fouled Steele a split second before the picture was taken and Steele converted the charity shot. Jack Tredinnick, is the Eastburg cager at the far right, while Dean Lakatos (14) and Milton Kistler (11) are other Parkland cagers in the picture. (Daily Record photo)

TTHS Advances Toward Title With Nod Over Coolbaugh

Pocono Pines—Tobyhanna Township moved still nearer to its third straight Monroe County League basketball championship last night with a convincing 64-38 victory over Coolbaugh High, here on the TTHS hardwood. However, Coolbaugh gained a measure of revenge by winning the junior varsity contest from the same foe, 39-27.

Coolbaugh managed to hold a slim lead for the greater part of the opening round in the varsity game at the end of eight minutes of action the visiting green and white clad charges of Coach Don Wismer held a hair-thin 11-10 advantage.

However, paced by Norman Lewis and Jim "Cocky" Wilson, TTHS came back to dominate the second round, 14-7, and adjourn to the dressing room at halftime with a 25-18 edge in the scoring.

Big Period
TTHS really put the contest in the freezing compartment in the third period while rolling up 25 points, five times as many as that accounted for by Coolbaugh. The home team entered the final quarter on the front end of a 49-23 count.

The TTHS contingent, coached by Carl Majer, made certain of victory by fighting Coolbaugh on even terms during the last quarters, 15-15.

Coolbaugh made only six of 20 shots from the charity line, while TTHS rang the bell on 12 of 17 occasions.

Big Pocono Ski Meet Postponed

Tannersville — Lack of snow forced postponement of the third annual Eastern Pennsylvania Ski Championships. Yesterday, the events, originally scheduled for last Saturday, were moved up to today, but now are listed for next Saturday, here on the Big Pocono slopes.

Changes
In the three-year history of the event it hasn't been held on the original date in any one year. Lack of snow has inflicted a poor weekend for winter sports in the Pocono Mountains, this week-end.

Polk Averages Earlier Setback By Downing Pocono High, 56-42
Tannersville — Polk High averaged an earlier setback at the hands of Pocono last night with a 56-42 victory over the charges of Coach Harry Wertheiser. In the losing contingent's home court, Polk made it a clean sweep by also taking home the bacon in the preliminary tussle, 36-20, over the Pocono junior varsity.

Even Struggle
Polk, taking no chances of dropping two to Pocono in the same season, opened with a bang as Henry and Martin Krechel paced the red and white clad contingent into a 22-10 lead at the

Mountaineers Suffer Costly Defeat, 67-52

Lehighon — Stroudsburg High's second-half Lehigh Valley league title chances grew slim here last night as an aroused band of Lehighon Indians took the measure of the Mountaineers, 67-52. It was the first loss in the second-half for the maroon and white color bearers, who ran up a pair of quick victories in their first two outings.

Stroudsburg's spirited junior varsity gave a demonstration of power by swamping the Lehighon yearlings in the preliminary contest, 67-38, as Don Garaventi, Byron "Chick" Miller and Benny Miller led the scoring parade with 19, 16 and 16 markers respectively.

The Mountaineers, who have become famous for their second half play this season, failed to live up to advance billing here last night and Lehighon dominated the third and fourth quarters of the eagerly awaited game to make certain of victory.

Early Lead
Jack Newell led his mates to a slim 18-16 lead at the end of the first period, but it was the last time the Mountaineers were to finish any quarter on the long end of the score.

Lehighon, paced by their two gangling front court men, Joel Samuelson and Denny Roth, began to move in the second period and racked up 20 points, while the Mountaineers were able to land only 11. The turn of events put the Indians out in front at halftime, 36-29, a position the home team held for the remainder of the distance.

The Indians remained out in front by holding an 18-14 advantage in the third period and then put the contest on ice with a 13-9 domination of the last eight minutes of action.

Stroudsburg made ten of 19 foul shots, while Lehighon came through with 19 conversions in 27 attempts from the charity line.

ESSTC Mat Squad Invades Ithaca College

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will send its wrestling squad in search of its first victory of the season today, when the Warriors oppose Ithaca College on its home mat in Seneca gym. Action is scheduled to get underway at 8 p.m.

The ESSTC grunt-and-growl artists, under the direction of Coach George Ockershausen, have lost all three trips to the mat thus far this season. The defeats were inflicted by Wilkes College, Lock Haven and West Chester and all by comfortable margins.

Ithaca on the other hand is enjoying an undefeated season thus far. The Bombers have taken the measure of the University of Toronto and Rochester Institute of Technology and battled Lock Haven to an 18-18 deadlock.

Top Talent

Four members of the Ithaca mat squad have won all three of their matches to date.

Ockershausen in announcing his array of talent for today pointed out that Italio Veltri would be back in action in the 147-pound bout, while Ray Tippett will handle the 167-pound chore in place of Bob Knapp. Art Schaare is unable to make the trip and will be replaced by Mike Revello in the 157-pound event.

The remainder of the lineup will feature Frank Presty in the 123-pound event; Ralph Wagner, 130-pound division; Chris Poff, 147-pound class. Ken Cox will handle the 177-pound duties and Bob Tyson will be in his usual heavy-weight role.

Following today's action ESSTC will have three matches remaining and Ithaca will go to the mat on four more occasions.

Kluszewski Inks Pact

Cincinnati (AP)—Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati Reds first baseman, ended his holdout yesterday, signing a contract to play next season at an undisclosed figure.

Bonnies Drop Football—At Least For 1952

Olean, N. Y. (AP)—Bonaventure University yesterday reached the end of the road it had hoped would lead to big time intercollegiate football, and suspended the sport—at least for 1952.

But the Very Rev. Juvenal Lator, OFM, president of the school, left the way open for resumption on a strictly de-emphasized basis. "Problems arising from ever increasing costs in every department and steadily declining income, as well as the national emergency, have at last compelled us to face the inevitable," Father Juvenal said.

St. Bonaventure thus became the thirty-sixth college to suspend football since the end of the 1950 season and the third Catholic school to announce such a decision in recent weeks. Loyola of Los Angeles and the University of San Francisco have given up the sport since the end of the 1951 season.

Father Juvenal indicated that

St. Bonaventure was through trying to field a team of national stature, even if the sport was resumed. But he declared:

"If the formation of an intercollegiate league with some of our neighboring colleges can provide us with a football program that will be an asset in every way to all of us, then we will be ready to take active steps in that direction."

Difficulties

Schedule difficulties plus the recent loss of head coach Joe Bach to the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League also were believed to have contributed to the decision to give up the sport.

The only definitely scheduled game the Bonnies had for 1952 was with Syracuse. But Dayton and Xavier were fairly definite and the athletic department had been toying with the idea of playing the Quantico and Camp Le Jeune Marines again.

Schedule problems had plagued the school since 1946, when the sport was resumed with high hopes of reaching the big time. Hughie Devore, who coached at Notre Dame during the war, was hired and Forbes Stadium, a tidy plant into which about 12,000 could be squeezed, was built.

In four years Devore's clubs won 25, lost six and tied one and quickly acquired the reputation as spoilers for big teams. Few major clubs would play the Bonnies more than once and the stadium wasn't big enough to attract them here financially. At the same time, the Bonnies themselves couldn't command big enough guarantees to make a road operation feasible.

Devore left for New York University and Bach took over in 1950, when the club won seven and lost two. Last year, the record was 5-4 and the 1952 prospects were none too good.

Hastie Elected League Official

Nazareth—Dave Thomas, Bangor High's faculty athletic manager, was elected to a third term as president of the Lehigh-Northampton League at a regularly scheduled meeting here at the Nazareth YMCA on Thursday night.

Other officers named at the meeting included Lewis Hastie, faculty athletic manager, who was selected to fill the vice-president's office. Fred Mickle, Parkland, was named secretary and John Lakey, Pen Argyl, was voted into the treasurer's office.

Other Business

Other business discussed included the 1952 baseball schedule and the 1952-1953 basketball slate.

In addition to Hastie, those attending the meeting from East Stroudsburg were Jack Kist, Dick Forster and Del Davis, of the football and basketball coaching staffs, and Ralph O. Burrows, school principal.

New Industry Fabricates Plastic Products In Plant On Storm St., Stroudsburg

The most recent addition to the industrial scene in Monroe County is the newly-formed firm of Topfer, Inc., established to fabricate plastic products for the industrial and consumer markets.

The president and the officers of Topfer, Inc., are local men. Charles N. Topfer, president, is a native of Monroe county, a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School. Prior to and after serving in the armed forces, he gained considerable experience with three large Philadelphia plastic concerns. The other officers are: John J. Fisher, vice-president, chief engineer of the Patterson-Kelley chemical and process division; Carl H. Lilius, secretary and treasurer, treasurer of Patterson-Kelley.

The members of the board of director are: Charles N. Topfer,

Charles N. Topfer

Frank L. Patterson Jr., Elmer D. Christine, Alvin Topfer and Carl H. Lilius.

The office and plant are located on Storm St., Stroudsburg, in the four-story building formerly occupied by the Melody Cheese Co. Charles N. Topfer is directing the extensive conversion program which is expected to be completed within the coming month.

For the present, Topfer, Inc. will carry on its entire efforts toward serving local industrial requirements. Some of the concerns that have used plastic products fabricated by Topfer are: Nu-Mad Machinery, Art Metal Works, Patterson-Kelley Co., Inc., Edinger & Wyckoff and Ingham Research Laboratories. Products include plastic signs, counter display racks, plastic clips, industrial jigs and the transparent blender shells for the chemical and process industries.

Topfer, Inc., also plans to manufacture an extensive line of costume jewelry, novelties and numerous plastic gift accessories. When full production is obtained, Topfer, Inc., will promote and merchandise these products on a national level.

Mr. Topfer said yesterday:

"The plastic industry, in the short span of 15 years has grown to giant proportions and is considered a leader of the young industries in the country today. Since the outbreak of the Korean situation, which greatly accelerated the defense program, all phases of industry have been forced to seek material substitutions, such as plastic, to take the place of scarce and unobtainable metals.

"The plastic family in many cases has proved not only a successful substitute for metals but is superior to them in numerous applications. Plastics are highly desirable due to their non-corrosive and non-contaminating properties. Other important advantages are lightness, flexibility, low cost and an amazingly long life span.

"The strength of plastics are in many ways comparable to metals and certain types will withstand temperatures as high as 250° F. and working pressures as high as 7500 pounds per square inch. With these material characteristics it was only natural that the air force, the other armed services and general industry have accepted plastics as a necessary material.

"The manufacturers of consumer products were quick to exploit plastics' versatility and beauty."

Pennsylvania Cooperates In Soil Program

(Second of three stories on activities of the Monroe County Soil Conservation district in 1951).

By Peter Olwyler

Four Pennsylvania departments and commissions aided the county's Soil Conservation district in keeping productive soil where it belonged in 1951—on the farm.

More is involved in conservation practices than merely following contours with a plow or shoving earth around to make terraces. Vital part of good conservation practice is also care of farm woodlots, planting of ground cover and even the maintaining of nature's plant life and wild animal balance.

The Pennsylvania Game Commission, for example, furnished 53,500 forest trees to Monroe district landowners in 1951, according to the yearly report of the county Soil Conservation District.

Also furnished by the Game Commission were 22,500 wildlife shrubs, 1,800 pounds of ryegrass and 60 pairs of crow repellent for use on corn. Loan of a tree planting machine and one operator was made for use on six district co-operators' farms.

Safety zone signs were erected around buildings on 185 farms and three game refuges were maintained. Stands of corn were purchased by the commission and left for winter feed for game birds and animals.

Approximately 80 quail, 84 ducks, 84 turkeys, 3,088 ringneck pheasants were released during the year. Some 2,800 feet of natural wildlife shrub border about 30 feet wide were developed by using a chain saw to cut back the large trees along woodland edges on game lands and on the farms of two co-operators.

The commission said it plans to expand this service by furnishing a chain saw and crew to farmers planning this conservation practice in approved areas.

Technical assistance in wildlife management was given on more than 2,000 acres.

Another cooperating agency, the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters, furnished 138,000 trees and shrubs for landowners on a purchase basis. More than 162 contracts to give advice on tree planting or woodland management were made.

Other woodland owners received advice and assistance on fire protection, marketing, insect damage, other timber problems. Alice F. Rebert, local soil conservation technician, Paul R. Drury, service forester, and Harvey R. Frantz of INCODEL jointly drew up a partial management plan for Lehigh University's Ross Common tract.

Timber cruised and marked for cutting totalled 95,360 board feet. Woodland management plans were drawn up for the Hawsatha Hunting and Fishing club.

The State Department of Highways came into the 1951 conservation picture by completing three roadbank stabilization projects. The work consisted of seeding, planting and mulching of slopes on both cut and fill sections.

Plantings were made on all three projects, with use of 16,850 shrubs and vines. A total 95,353 square yards of seeding and mulching were established. The department also cooperated in the disposal of run-off waters adjacent to lands of district co-operators.

The report disclosed that the State's Fish Commission inspected and approved for stocking some five ponds on co-operators' farms. Fish Warden Floyd Bachman stocked three of the ponds during October at a rate of 100 bass and 1,000 bluegill sunfish per surface acre. Number of fish put in the three ponds totalled 1,650. Fish were supplied by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The IncodeL conservationist helped with the conservation problem by interesting farmers and large landowners in the services offered by the soil conservation district. District Director Donald DeOttie had his farm woodlot dedicated as a tree farm at the IncodeL meeting at Pocono Manor last October.

Civil Defense Data Sent To Hotels, Resorts

Responsibility of hotels and resorts in event of enemy attack is being outlined by the Monroe County Civil Defense.

Basic instructions and advice are being distributed in the form of pamphlets prepared under direction of Civil Defense Director Fred W. Davis.

According to a Federal Interpretation of the Civil Defense program, hotels are responsible for protection of guests and employees; helping to provide emergency housing and feeding for the community.

Remoteness from probable air raid targets, says the pamphlet, does not exempt the community or hotel from getting ready for emergencies in advance.

"Civil Defense is just as important to hotels in small communities . . . because of guided missiles, bombs that miss their objective, planes shot down by anti-aircraft fire, enemy sabotage, care of evacuees from bombed-out areas, and biological warfare which the enemy is known to be planning for use against humans, plants and animals."

Advance planning can reduce casualties by more than 50 per cent, the pamphlet says.

The defense program for hotels is listed in three parts: responsibility; necessary physical equipment, and staff training to meet emergencies.

The county Civil Defense unit suggested one person be in charge of all hotel civil defense measures. He should supervise protective planning, staff training, and keep contact with civil authorities.

Hotel protection systems should include, the pamphlet says, a control room—rather like a wartime GHQ, safety programs, warning systems, shelters for personnel and equipment, emergency medical equipment, rescue teams, exit and entrance control, blackout techniques if necessary.

In some cases considerable thought and preparation is necessary: the pamphlet lists, for example, as some of the things which should be available in the shelter area, blankets, first-aid equipment, protected supply of drinking water, toilet facilities, battery operated radio, flashlights and tools for digging out—such as picks, shovels, crowbars.

Assigned duties of personnel under a proper hotel defense program might include building control director, his deputy, floor wardens, public room wardens, shelter wardens, fire watchers, fire brigade, rescue and first-aid squads, maintenance and emergency repair squads and messengers.
